“ Start anti-ageing early to stay young always! ”

Ageing starts even when we are young. Thankfully, I have ZÉLL-V to help me defy ageing, regain firm and radiant skin and maintain youthful vitality!

Mr Ong, 40

“ I regained youthful vitality! ”

After taking ZÉLL-V for two months, my strength and vitality increased and I felt mentally alert. At work, I am more driven. My back pain has also lessened. Most importantly, my plan of becoming a father is finally realised!

“ Wherever I go, everyone praises me for my smooth, firm and crystal-clear skin! ”

I'm a cancer survivor. My body was very weak after harsh chemical and radiation treatments. My skin also became very dry and wrinkled with dark spots and red patches. Today, I've been taking ZÉLL-V for over 4 years. ZÉLL-V keeps my immunity strong and my body energetic, and increases my zest for life.

Unique Sheep Breeding Method for Superb Quality

Sheep is considered to have one of the strongest immune system in the animal kingdom, enabling them to thrive even during cold, harsh winters. Many other animals lack such strong life force. Thus, placenta cells obtained from the sheep also possess similar resilience and vitality, which would be transferred to the human body when taken.

In order to extract the freshest and healthiest cells, and meet the strict requirements of ZÉLL-V exclusive formulation, sheep are specially bred in the most high-tech laboratories of New Zealand using the “close colony” breeding method, where millions of sheep are separately bred in groups. Each group are kept in different areas and looked after by a specialist. This method effectively prevents infections disease and ensures the excellent quality of ZÉLL-V sheep placenta products.

Advanced Formulation, Quality Assured

Studies have shown that the properties of sheep placenta are able to nourish the human body, keeping the skin beautiful and maintaining health and longevity, making it an excellent anti-ageing solution. The potency of sheep placenta lies in its content of active cellular materials that are able to promote regeneration and rejuvenation of our bodily cells. With the use of Swiss and German proprietary biotechnology, ZÉLL-V has extracted the precious active cellular materials, as well as growth factors and transfer factors from sheep placenta, while filtering away substances which are useless and may be harmful, including blood, hormones, toxins and allergens, thereby ensuring the purity and superb quality of ZÉLL-V Sheep Placenta Extract. Shark liver oil and grape seed oil are added for additional benefits.

ZÉLL-V Sheep Placenta Softgel Ingredients:

Active Cellular Material

Every single ZÉLL-V softgel contains 300mg of active cellular materials concentrated from 15000mg of fresh placenta (50:1).

Shark Liver Oil

Boosts immunity, fights off infections, promotes wound healing, anti-tumour.

Grape Seed Oil

High in antioxidants, strengthens the immunity, lowers high cholesterol and high blood pressure.

2nd Generation Enteric Coating Technology

The latest and improved ZÉLL-V softgels have undergone the 2nd generation enteric coating which prevents gastric acid in the stomach from destroying its active cellular materials, thereby ensuring full absorption when the softgel finally reaches the small intestine.

Growth Factors

Growth factors are naturally occurring proteins in the body capable of stimulating cell proliferation and differentiation. They act as signalling molecules between cells and are important for regulating various cellular processes.

Transfer Factors

Transfer factors are naturally occurring molecules in the body essential for proper functioning of the immune system. Transfer factors help immune cells identify invading germs more quickly and speed up the immune system's response against the invasion.

Anti-Ageing Begins at Cellular Level

Cells are the basic unit of all living things. Cells join together to form tissues, which then form organs. Different organs form the various systems of the human body. As you can see, all the tissue, organs and systems in our body, such as skin, heart and nervous system, are made up of tiny cells.

Ageing, therefore, is also known as cellular degradation. Various adverse factors in modern life, such as poor diet, stress, anxiety, alcohol consumption, drug intake, smoking and environmental pollution can damage our cells and accelerate cellular degradation, causing the function of our tissue and organs to decline. Various signs of ageing are the appearance of wrinkles and dark spots, poor memory, insomnia, a weakened immune system, greying and hair loss, lethargy, fatigue and so on.

Since time immemorial, human beings have gone to great lengths to search for the elixir of youth - the remedy that would keep us healthy, strong, young and beautiful always. Today, it seems that the search has finally come to an end, thanks to cellular therapy.

ZÉLL-V Platinum Sheep Placenta Extract

ZÉLL-V Platinum Sheep Placenta Extract is a form of cellular therapy. It aims to meet human race's need for anti-ageing and the prolongation of youthfulness through the use of the most advanced cell extraction method. ZÉLL-V works in accordance to the biological principle of "self-healing", whereby our own cells are activated for self-repair and regeneration to achieve optimum function of our bodily systems. Unlike drugs, it does not contain any chemicals, and is without any known side effects.

When our cells are healthy, our body will naturally be healthy; and when our cells are rejuvenated, our body will become youthful once again. ZÉLL-V supplies the human body with large amounts of active cells which stimulate the weakened and ageing cells in our body to heal themselves and regenerate, resulting in an overall restoration of our organs and systems. The aim of ZÉLL-V is not only to prolong life, but to enable every individual to live a meaningful, vibrant life!
